Title: CLLARO Directory of Colorado Latino Organizations

Printed in the United States of America

CLLARO is the 2021 UnidosUS Far West Regional Affiliate of the Year.
Introduction

In decades past, the Latin American Research and Service Agency (LARASA) published annually the most comprehensive directory of Hispanic organizations in the State of Colorado. Now that LARASA has become the Colorado Latino Leadership, Advocacy, & Research Organization (CLLARO), we are delighted to publish the free, updated, online and printed directory for the 21st century. The CLLARO Directory of Colorado Latino Organizations is a new free directory of Latino and Latino-serving groups, incorporated organizations, and agencies throughout the State of Colorado. We moved up our publishing date to get this directory online in 2020 so our community can identify and access bilingual and bicultural services during the COVID-19 pandemic.

The CLLARO Directory of Colorado Latino Organizations includes voluntary associations, grassroots community-based organizations, incorporated organizations of all types and sizes, and government agencies serving Latinos in Colorado. Latino organizations are defined as those led by, governed by, and serving Latinos. Featured Latino-serving organizations are defined as those in which at least 25% of the people they serve are Latino however they are not Latino led or governed. The online directory is searchable and available to all. The printed edition is available to the public at no charge. To request a copy email cllaro@cllaro.org. The PDF is available at https://www.cllaro.org/.

The directory is part of CLLARO's efforts to organize a statewide network to promote coalition-building, collaboration, and mutual support among Latino organizations, while respecting each other's missions, values, policy and advocacy priorities, and individual fund-raising strategies.

If your organization is not in the directory yet, don't worry. We are looking for agencies, nonprofits, and grassroots organizations that serve and help empower Latinos in Colorado communities on an ongoing basis. You can add your organization to the online directory at any time at https://www.cllaro.org/cllarodirectory. You can update your organization's entry online at https://www.cllaro.org/update-organization.

CLLARO thanks The Colorado Trust and The Colorado Health Foundation for their support.

CLLARO thanks the organizations in the directory for their service to the Latino community.

We thank the CLLARO staff, volunteers, and interns who helped research and write this directory: Emily Cervantes, Alejandra Colmenero, Mike Cortés, Emily Dandaro-Peres, Vicky Garza, Zarah Levy, Michelle Pacheco, Gloria Rubio-Cortés, Vannesia Sifuentes, Gladys Soto, Becca Teachey and Sarah Wochele.

The directory content is the sole responsibility of CLLARO.

The mission of CLLARO is to empower Latinos through leadership development, advocacy, and policy research to strengthen Colorado. Throughout our 57-year history, CLLARC has worked to help low-income Latinos empower themselves, both economically and politically. CLLARO's current program priorities are education opportunity and equity, access to health care, improved social determinants of health, and increased Latino civic engagement.

Latinos have been in Colorado a long time. Some can trace family roots here to the 1600s. The oldest municipality in the state is the town of San Luis where, like the state in general, Spanish was spoken before the arrival of Colorado’s English-speaking settlers. Although the large majority of Latinos in Colorado today are native-born U.S. citizens, too many other Coloradans treat Latinos as if we were all undocumented immigrants. The result is continuing disparities and discrimination. Political and economic costs to Latino health, education, civic engagement, career opportunities, housing, disabilities, income security in old age, and dignity remain unacceptably high.

When CLLARO was founded in Denver in 1964, the city’s neighborhoods, labor market, churches, and public schools were more strictly segregated than they are today. Latinos are a growing presence in Colorado. In 2010, one in five Coloradans were Latino. Today, Latinos are nearly one in four. The Colorado State Demographer projects that by 2050, Latinos will be one in three. (Colorado State Demographer, Population of Colorado’s Race and Ethnic Groups, 2000-2040. 2018: Denver.)

Our vision for the future is a State of Colorado where Latinos achieve their fullest potential. CLLARO programs and activities serve that vision in the following ways.

- The CLLARO Capitol Fellowship Program provides public policy training to college students—typically the first in their families to attend college—and places them in paid internships with state legislators and other public officials and policy advocates. We are now accepting applications for the 2022 legislative session.
- The Parents Advocating for Public Schools (PALS) program trains low-income minority parents to help improve education resources and outcomes for their children who attend under-resourced public schools. PALS began in 2017.
- The Oral Health Coalitions program promotes access to oral health care for low-income families, in collaboration with minority community organizations, health care providers, public health agencies and policy advocates. The program began in 2017.
- The Community Health Advocates Program (CHAP) trains volunteers to mobilize their Spanish-speaking neighbors to tackle social isolation of elders and other problems involving social determinants of health. (CHAP is suspended during the COVID-19 pandemic.)
- CLLARO has often engaged in non-partisan public policy research and advocacy since 1964. We are represented at the Colorado General Assembly by a professional lobbyist.
- CLLARO has promoted Latino participation in the decennial U.S. Census for several decades. In 2020, our grassroots outreach and relational organizing teams targeted census tracts the Census Bureau considers “hard-to-reach.” We also conducted social media campaigns promoting census participation.
- CLLARO has a history of registering and encouraging Latino U.S. citizens to vote. In 2020, we used door-to-door outreach and relational organizing methods in Adams, Denver, and Pueblo counties.
- CLLARO is responding to the COVID-19 pandemic in several ways. We assist individuals and families with COVID testing, vaccinations, and access to affordable health care. We also assist people— including older adults and family caregivers – facing food insecurity, eviction, health or mental health problems, wage theft, and needs for protective services.
- In 2021, we began testifying before Colorado’s new Independent Redistricting Commissions. We are proposing new voting district maps based on census data to increase the influence of voters in Latino communities across the state.
- In 2021, CLLARO launched the Latino Action Council, a new organizing project to help Latino community organizations across Colorado collaborate and expand their role in shaping legislation and public policy.
Introducción

En décadas pasadas, la Agencia Latinoamericana de Investigación y Servicios publicó anualmente el directorio más completo de organizaciones hispanas en el estado de Colorado. Ahora que LARASA se ha convertido en CLLARO, estamos encantados de publicar el directorio en línea gratuito y actualizado para el siglo 21. El Directorio CLLARO de Organizaciones Latinas de Colorado es un nuevo directorio gratuito en línea e impreso de organizaciones latinas y organizaciones y agencias cestacadas que sirven a los latinos en todo el estado de Colorado. Las organizaciones latinas se definen como aquellas dirigidas, gobernadas por y sirviendo a los latinos. Las organizaciones destacadas que sirven a latinos se definen como aquellas en las que al menos el 25% de las personas a las que sirven son latinos, sin embargo, aún no están dirigidos o gobernados por latinos.

El directorio es parte de los esfuerzos de CLLARO para organizar una red estatal para promover la formación de coaliciones, la colaboración y el apoyo mutuo entre las organizaciones latinas, respetando las misiones, los valores, las políticas y las prioridades de defensa y las estrategias individuales de recaudación de fondos de cada uno.

Si su organización aún no está en el directorio, no se preocupe. Puede agregar su organización en cualquier momento. Buscamos agencias, organizaciones sin fines de lucro y organizaciones de base que sirvan y ayuden a empoderar a los latinos en las comunidades de Colorado.

CLLARO agradece a The Colorado Trust y The Colorado Health Foundation por su apoyo.

CLLARO agradece a las organizaciones en el directorio y al personal, voluntarios y pasantes de CLLARO por hacer posible el directorio, incluidos Emily Cervantes, Alejandra Colmenero, Mike Cortés, Emily Dandaro-Peres, Vicky Lee-Garza, Zarah Levy, Michelle Pacheco, Gloria Rubio-Cortés, Vannesa Sifuentes, Gladys Soto, Becca Teachy y Sarah Wochele.

El contenido del directorio es responsabilidad exclusiva de CLLARO.

La misión de CLLARO es empoderar a los latinos a través del desarrollo de liderazgo, promoción, e investigación de políticas para fortalecer Colorado. A lo largo de nuestros 57 años de historia, CLLARO ha trabajado para ayudar a los latinos de bajos ingresos a empoderarse, tanto económica como políticamente.

Las prioridades actuales del programa de CLLARO son oportunidades educativas y equidad, acceso a atención médica, mejores determinantes sociales de la salud y mayor participación cívica latina.
Cuando se fundó CLLARO en Denver en 1964, los vecindarios de la ciudad, el mercado laboral, las iglesias y las escuelas públicas estaban segregadas más estrictamente de lo que están hoy. Los latinos durante mucho tiempo se habían desanimado a votar desde que se fundó el estado en 1964, en ese entonces no había casi ningún funcionario público latino. Esto había sido cierto para todo el estado desde antes de su adhesión al sindicato.

Los latinos han estado en Colorado por mucho tiempo. Algunos pueden rastrear raíces familiares aquí hasta el siglo 1600. El municipio más antiguo del estado es el pueblo de San Luís donde, como el estado en general, se hablaba español antes de la llegada de los colonos angloparlantes de Colorado. Aunque la gran mayoría de los latinos en Colorado hoy en día son ciudadanos estadounidenses nativos, muchos otros habitantes de Colorado tratan a los latinos como si todos fuéramos inmigrantes indocumentados. El resultado es una discriminación y disparidades continuas. Los costos políticos y económicos para la salud, la educación, el compromiso cívico, las oportunidades profesionales, la vivienda, las discapacidades, la seguridad de los ingresos en la vejez y la dignidad de los latinos siguen siendo inaceptablemente altos.

Nuestra visión para el futuro es un estado de Colorado donde los latinos alcancen su máximo potencial. Los programas y actividades de CLLARO sirven a esa visión de las siguientes maneras.

- El Programa de Pasantía CLLARO en el Capitolio brinda capacitación sobre políticas públicas a estudiantes universitarios, generalmente los primeros en sus familias en asistir a la universidad, y los coloca en pasantías remuneradas con legisladores estatales y otros funcionarios públicos y defensores de políticas.

- Nuestro programa Padres Abogando por las Escuelas Públicas (PALS) capacita a los padres de minorías de bajos ingresos para ayudar a mejorar los recursos educativos y los resultados de sus hijos que asisten a escuelas públicas de escasos recursos.

- El programa CLLARO Diverse Oral Health Coalitions reúne a organizaciones comunitarias minoritarias, proveedores de atención de la salud bucal y agencias de salud pública para promover la educación y la prevención de la salud bucal en las comunidades minoritarias y mejorar el acceso de las familias de bajos ingresos a los servicios de salud bucal.

- El Programa de defensores de la salud de la comunidad (CHAP) capacita a voluntarios para movilizar a sus vecinos de habla hispana para abordar el aislamiento social de los ancianos y otros problemas relacionados con los determinantes sociales de la salud. (CHAP se suspende durante la pandemia de COVID-19).
• CLLARO participa en la investigación y la promoción de políticas públicas no partidistas. Estamos representados en la Asamblea General de Colorado por un cabildero profesional.

• En 2020, CLLARO llevó a cabo campañas de registro de votantes y campañas GOTV en los condados de Adams, Denver y Pueblo.

• También en 2020, CLLARO utilizó métodos de organización relacional de base y campañas en las redes sociales para apuntar a los latinos que residen en secciones censales "difíciles de contar" para aumentar la participación en el censo decenal de los EE. UU.

• CLLARO está respondiendo a la pandemia de COVID-19 de varias formas. Ayudamos a las personas y las familias con las pruebas de COVID, las vacunas y el acceso a una atención médica asequible. También ayudamos a las personas, incluidos los adultos mayores y los cuidadores familiares, que enfrentan inseguridad alimentaria, desalojo, problemas de salud o de salud mental, robo de salarios y necesidades de servicios de protección.

• En 2021, comenzamos a testificar ante las nuevas Comisiones Independientes de Redistribución de Distritos de Colorado. Estamos proponiendo nuevos mapas de distritos electorales basados en datos del censo para aumentar la influencia de los votantes en las comunidades latinas en todo el estado.

• En 2021, CLLARO lanzó el Latino Action Council, un nuevo proyecto de organización para ayudar a las organizaciones comunitarias latinas en todo Colorado a colaborar y ampliar su papel en la configuración de la legislación y las políticas públicas.

More about the organization: We provide Latino/Chicano artists a platform to display their art --visual, musical, performance or written. For nearly half of a century, CHAC has given the Chicano community an arts venue. It features the work of both new and established artists. CHAC also works to preserve Latino/Chicano arts through education programs taught by master artists. CHAC was founded in 1978 by a group of passionate visual and performing artists with the intention of promoting and preserving the Chicano/Latino culture through the expression of the arts.

More about the organization: The project is designed to be a grassroots community effort to preserve this key component of Colorado’s visual heritage in response to the threats presented by the increasing age of the murals, as well as the on-going urban development and gentrification in neighborhoods and cities tied to the history of Colorado’s Chicano/a population. The project will offer opportunities for collaboration between artists, archivists, activists, and members of the Chicano community, as well as the broader population across the state. In addition to preserving and promoting the murals themselves, the project will provide a mechanism for recognizing the important contributions of Chicano/a individuals and communities to the history of the state.

More about the organization: We provide educational workshops and events to empower our clients with the knowledge they need to be successful. There are many unique challenges facing immigrant families, and no other agency in our area focuses on distributing the information necessary to properly address them. During the pandemic, we have worked with local and governmental organizations to ensure our clients are aware of all services and resources such as food boxes, health information, and vaccines. We piloted an after-school program for immigrant children to support them as learning went online (during the COVID pandemic in collaboration) with several local groups and organizations. We also worked to develop leaders in the immigrant community to help distribute food boxes to families in need and spread information during the pandemic.

More about the organization: Based in San Luis, Colorado, the Land Rights Council was formed in 1978 as a grassroots advocacy organization to protect the community’s rights originally received under the Mexican land grant system. In 1843, it was established as the Sangre de Cristo Land Grant. The Council has been committed not only to regaining historic rights to La Sierra through a series of court cases, but also to maintaining its ecological health. This mountain tract east of town is the source of three rivers and many tributary streams, used for the area’s acequia-based agriculture. The group has been part of both the Chicano rights movement in Colorado and one of the longest running court cases in the country. The Land Rights Council, run by a volunteer board of directors, was founded by Apolinar Rael, Ray Otero, and Shirley Romero.

More about the organization: LCFC provides direct funding to Latino-led and -serving nonprofit organizations serving immigrants and refugees, youth, women, older adults, and other key groups in their community. Adelante Colorado is a three-year project building the capacities of Latino-led and -serving nonprofits and leaders in Colorado. Regional Community Investments (RCI) centers community leaders' sovereignty and agency in determining the best pathways for improving the lives of Latinos in their communities in the San Luis Valley, Mountain Region and Northern Colorado. Inspired by Women of Wisdom (Latinas 50+), the Las Mujeres Valientes Statewide Fellowship (LMV) was created to reduce ageism, promote health and well-being, create shared learning environments, and transfer knowledge and wisdom so that all generations of Latinas can thrive. LCFC established varied giving opportunities such as Young Latino Philanthropists (YLP) and Latinas LEAD as a way of pooling together resources that are then reinvested back into communities.

More about the organization: The Latino Research and Policy Center (LRPC) is housed in the Colorado School of Public Health (CSPH) at the University of Colorado Denver (CU-Denver), Downtown Campus. The LRPC’s vision is to become a nationally renowned higher education, research, data, and policy expert on health and education disparities affecting Latino communities. The Latino Health Certificate is a graduate level program designed to provide students and working professionals an education that advances understanding of health disparities and health inequities affecting Latino populations.
More about the organization: Our vision: Art Experiences that Inspire Justice. LCAC values bridge the classroom, library, studio and the streets: Arts with a social conscience. Where creativity, excellence, grace and courage are at the intersection of identity, history and social justice. We believe in ordinary people doing extraordinary things through art + culture + community development. The LCAC Cultural Campus will span the Sun Valley and La Alma neighborhoods and become a model for sustainable cultural development. We started in 2018 with Hijos del Sol, an award-winning gift shop that expands the market for Latino hand-made artisan goods that and keeps money in our communities. We are working to open an intergenerational and interdisciplinary community arts program called “Las Bodegas” (or warehouses).

More about the organization: In 1976, eight mothers living in West Denver founded what would become Mi Casa Resource Center. As Mi Casa grew and developed, we recognized the need for programs to advance economic self-sufficiency for the entire family. In 2016, our mission evolved to reflect an expanded target population to advance the economic success of families with limited opportunities, as an organization grounded in our Latino heritage. Today, Mi Casa’s headquarters is named the Salazar Center for Family Prosperity.

More about the organization: Radio Bilingüe was founded as a single non-profit station in California’s San Joaquin Valley in 1976 by volunteer farmworkers, activists, artists and teachers as La Voz que Rompío el Silencio — The Voice that Broke the Silence. With its national breadth today, Radio Bilingüe continues to counter inequities in access to the public airwaves, prizing its role as a pivotal medium for reaching socially, economically, and linguistically marginalized populations. Radio Bilingüe owns and operates 13 of its own full-power FM non-commercial stations in California and the Southwest (in Alamosa, Colorado) and produces the first – and only – daily national Spanish-language news and public affairs programs in public broadcasting.

More about the organization: SLVIRC serves a geographically remote area in south-central Colorado, which is roughly the size of Connecticut. The area is home to more than 40,000 residents and 10,000 migrant and seasonal workers. The population is almost 50% Hispanic, and there are more than 400 Q’anjob’al Mayans (Guatemalans) living in the San Luis Valley. It is one of Colorado’s poorest regions, with much of the population living below the poverty level. Two of the valley’s six counties are the poorest in the state and among the poorest in the nation. The majority of the clientele served is of Mexican and Guatemalan descent.

Legislative Districts: State Senate District -33, State House District-5, U.S. Congressional District-1

More about the organization: ESC’s primary program offering is an intensive after-school string orchestra (violin/viola/cello/bass) program. Our ensembles focus on developing musical excellence as well as leadership and essential skills. We do this by serving students grades kindergarten through 12 from some of Denver’s lowest income communities: Globeville, Elyria-Swansea, Cole, Clayton, Curtis Park, and Five Points. With few enrichment activities available to lower-resourced children this spring and summer, ESC has seen a surge in demand for our program. Enrollment has increased 50% over the last two months – from 45 to 65 students. Seventy-five percent of ESC students are Latinx; 55 percent of students are English language learners; and 68 percent qualify for free or reduced-price lunch.

Legislative Districts: State Senate District-26, State House District-38, U.S. Congressional District-6

More about the organization: Immigrant Pathways Colorado makes self-development grants to documented immigrants, refugees and asylees. Grants are for things like applying for citizenship, learning English, training to become a pharmaceutical, dental or medical assistant, obtaining a commercial driver’s license – whatever will improve the family’s quality of life and sense of belonging in the community. Grants are never made directly to the immigrant, but to the organization/agency that will help him or her. An online application must be filled out by a Referring Professional who declares that he or she has seen the immigrants’ documents, pay stubs, rental costs, etc. Contact us at info@immigrantpathways.org with questions who might be eligible for a grant. Immigrant Pathways also makes annual scholarships available for immigrant students studying at Arapahoe Community College.

Colorado Hispanic Bar Association, Founded 1977

Mission: To serve its membership, the CHBA sponsors continuing legal education seminars and has established a number of committees and activities to address professional development issues. The CHBA is involved with other state and national bar associations, such as the Colorado Bar Association and other specialty bar associations. It is an affiliate of the Hispanic National Bar Association, having hosted the 1990, 2001 and 2013 national conventions in Denver. CHBA members have earned significant leadership positions with the national bar. To serve the Hispanic community, the CHBA is actively involved in a number of efforts. Members contribute numerous hours to pro bono projects such as the 1991 “poaching” incident in the San Luis Valley. CHBA members annually donate pro bono legal and community services to Hispanic community boards. The CHBA is also a founding member of the Hispanic League.

Services Provided: Legal

Website: https://www.chba.net/

Contact: membership@CHBA.net

Address: P.O. Box 8895, Denver, CO 80201

County: Denver

Legislative Districts: State Senate District 34-, State House District 5-, U.S. Congressional District-1

Moe about the organization: For more than four decades, the CHBA has initiated projects designed to carry out the stated purposes of its founders. For example, CHBA members have worked diligently to expand the number of Hispanic lawyers in the state. Today, there are more than 500 Hispanic attorneys in Colorado specializing in all facets of the law. Additionally, the CHBA is committed to expanding legal opportunities for Hispanic attorneys within Colorado. It has worked to ensure the appointment of Latinos to the bench, district attorney offices, governmental entities, and private law firms.

Statewide, CHBA efforts have led to favorable outcomes in a variety of significant issues, including the 1991 "poaching" incident in the San Luis Valley, opposing the 2002 "English Only" amendment, intervening in the 2011 Colorado Congressional district reapportionment process, and securing, for the first time in Pueblo’s history, two majority Hispanic city council districts. The CHBA was represented by MALDEF and Faegre Baker Daniels. The lawsuit was important to preserve historically underrepresented Latino communities of interest and prevent dilution of Latino voting strength statewide. Through the CHBA’s Public Policy Committee, the CHBA successfully assisted the Pueblo Chicano Democratic Caucus in securing, for the first time in Pueblo’s history, two majority Hispanic city council districts.

Padres & Jóvenes Unidos, Founded 1991

Mission: Padres & Jóvenes Unidos is a multi-issue organization led by people of color who work for educational equity, racial justice, immigrant rights and advocating for equal access to achieve a better quality of life. Our Freedom to Learn framework is based on the belief that education is a right, not a privilege. We believe that all students, regardless of race, income, or immigration status, deserve equal access to high-quality public schools that prepare them for college.

Services Provided: Education, Racial Justice, Immigrant Rights, Leadership, Youth, Health Justice

Legislative Districts: State Senate District 34-, State House District 5-, U.S. Congressional District-1

More about the organization: Padres & Jóvenes Unidos was formed by parents and youth willing to organize for educational justice, equity and excellence in Colorado Schools. Padres Unidos was born out of a struggle at Valverde Elementary School in Denver where parents removed a principal who refused to stop the practice of forcing Mexicano children to eat their lunches from the cafeteria floor as a form of punishment. In 1992, after a year of organizing and successfully replacing the administrative leadership at Valverde, parents determined that it was necessary to build off of their experience and work with other parents in dealing with similar issues within Denver Public Schools. Parents from all over the district were calling Valverde parents for guidance, advice and support. With no office, staff, or money, Padres Unidos was formed by parents willing to organize for educational justice, equity and excellence in Denver Public Schools.

Padres Unidos has evolved into a multi-issue organization led by people of color who work for educational excellence, racial justice for youth, immigrant rights and quality healthcare for all. Jóvenes Unidos, the youth initiative of Padres Unidos, emerged as young people became active in reforming their schools, ending the school to jail track and organizing for immigrant student rights. Both Padres and Jóvenes Unidos build power to challenge the root cause of discrimination, racism and inequity by exposing the economic, social and institutional basis for injustice as well as developing effective strategies to realize meaningful change.
